Subject: Revision of DCID 1/14

1. Discussion at the 15 January 1986 SECOM meeting indicated that members agreed to the proposed revisions of DCID 1/14 disseminated by the referenced memorandum. I proposed a new definition of SCI at the meeting. It is:

"SCI is classified intelligence information concerning or derived from especially sensitive sources, methods or analytical processes; it is required to be handled exclusively within formal control systems established by the Director of Central Intelligence."

STAT 2. Members are requested to advise the staff of their concurrences or comments on this definition. Those members not responding by 5 February 1986 or requesting additional time will be deemed to concur in the proposed revisions to include the new definition.
